Storytime

Choose an image or object to spend some time looking at. Create a short story inspired by or about the image or object you chose. Allow yourself to just have fun and let your imagination run wild. Ask yourself the following questions when looking:

1. Are there people or animals represented? If so, who are they in your story? If not, why are they missing?
2. Where is the setting?
3. What time period (if any) is represented in this image or by this object? What clues make you think this?
4. If it is an object, who do you think used it or made it? How do you think it was used?
